THE STORY

There's a café in McKinnon called Mr Burch... a place to eat, drink and talk in an eclectic setting with décor reminiscent of the 1920's & 30's. Now Mr Burch has a son.....

Taken over eighty years ago by photographer Hugh Spalding, the picture on the other side, is the inspiration for Son of a Burch. The boy with the trilby and pipe grew up in the 1950's and 60's and hence the mid-century theme for the cafe. We invite you to sit back and relax in one of the Grant Featherstone armchairs with a coffee and a snack, or pick up and head off on the train with a sandwich or a cake...
